Applicant's arguments filed February 16, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Claim 1 remains pending.

Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120, "Continuation" status, as follows:

The later-filed application must be an application for a patent for an invention which is also disclosed in the prior application (the parent or original nonprovisional application or provisional application); the disclosure of the invention in the parent application and in the later-filed application must be sufficient to comply with the requirements of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. See Transco Products, Inc. v. Performance Contracting, Inc., 38 F.3d 551, 32 USPQ2d 1077 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

This application repeats a substantial portion of several prior applications and claims additional disclosure not presented in the prior application(s). Since this application names an inventor or inventors named in the prior application, it may constitute a continuation-in-part of the prior application.

For example, in the chain of dependency, applicant ultimately claims "continuation" status back to application 08/950,898 now US Pat. No. 5,941,273. On comparison, it appears that there is some equivalent, i.e. "continuing" subject matter. In view of applicants remarks concerning such the Examiner did not intend to mean that continuing status is not permissible. Continuing status and "Continuation" application are two different things. In view of the disclosure of the instant application, including the drawings it is clear that there is subject matter disclosed in the instant application

Art Unit: 3753

10/840,152 that is not disclosed in the prior patent or in some of the prior applications. Thus, at best this application (10/840,152) could be a "continuation-in-part" application of the earlier patent. The same is true for all applications to which priority is claimed. Relative to each application claimed, including the provisional applications claimed (series 60/xxx,xxx applications) if there is subject matter disclosed in the later filed application which is not supported under 35 U.S. C. 112 first paragraph in the earlier application to which priority is claimed, then this instant application can be a "continuation-in-part" of the earlier application and the Related Application Status should so reflect.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/869,752. Although the conflicting claims are not identical because of the additional subject matter of lines 2-4 and 242-247 in claim 1 of copending application SN 10/869,752, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all of the claimed features of the claim of this instant application are contained, word for word, in claim 1 of the copending application which includes the noted additional subject matter.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim is narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. Note the format of the claims in the more recent patent(s) cited. The current language of the claims renders it very difficult, if not impossible, to determine the scope of the claims.

In view of the severity of the indefiniteness of the claims, it would be meaningless to offer an opinion on the patentability of these claims as the metes and bounds of these claims are unascertainable.

Regarding applicants remarks as they may apply, the mere allegation that "double patenting does not exist" is unpersuasive without an explanation as to why the claimed elements of the instant claim, which find their word for word equivalents in the copending claim, are not of the same as or minor variations of the scope of the instant application claim.

Further, the failure to address the previous rejection under 35 USC §112 does not now constitute grounds for removal of the rejection under 35 USC §112.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

This action is a final rejection and is intended to close the prosecution of this application. Applicant's reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to this action is limited either to an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to an amendment complying with the requirements set forth below.

If applicant should desire to appeal any rejection made by the examiner, a Notice of Appeal must be filed within the period for reply identifying the rejected claim or claims appealed. The Notice of Appeal must be accompanied by the required appeal fee of $250.00 (small entity).

If applicant should desire to file an amendment, entry of a proposed amendment after final rejection cannot be made as a matter of right unless it merely cancels claims or complies with a formal requirement made earlier. Amendments touching the merits of the application which otherwise might not be proper may be admitted upon a showing a good and sufficient reasons why they are necessary and why they were not presented earlier.

A reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to a final rejection must include the appeal from, or cancellation of, each rejected claim. The filing of an amendment after final rejection, whether or not it is entered, does not stop the running of the statutory period for reply to the final rejection unless the examiner holds the claims to be in condition for allowance. Accordingly, if a Notice of Appeal has not been filed properly within the period for reply, or any extension of this period obtained under either 37 CFR 1.136(a) or (b), the application will become abandoned.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to John Rivell whose telephone number is (571) 272-4918. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Thur. from 6:30am-5:00pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gene Mancene can be reached on (571) 272-4930. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
